As a child, Ted was fascinated by everything mechanical. He was not afraid to disassemble and reassemble anything mechanical at a very young age. This interest translated to his current passion, shooting. Ted was introduced to shooting in 2012 by a good friend from the Hawthorne Gun Club who was a promoter of bullseye pistol. In a short time, Ted quickly caught on and was scoring very well amongst his local bullseye club friends. He loved working on his pistols and had been upgrading them for his new hobby. He competed in his first NRA Indoor Sectional and was hooked. From that time on, all he wanted to do was compete. He shot his first 2700 in May of 2016. He then began consistently shooting in local leagues, sectionals, state, and national championships, often spending weekends traveling from state to state to compete in various events. Ted quickly became involved in promoting and protecting our second amendment right to bear arms, which is crucial to our sport. He currently serves as a Regional Vice President for his NRA State Association in NJ (ANJRPC). He helps run indoor and outdoor pistol matches as well as international matches all year round. He is an officer at his local indoor range in Riverdale, NJ. Ted is very proud of his daughter, Mia, who shares his passion and is a NJ Junior Team pistol shooter.

Ted is a 20-year ASE Certified Master Automotive Technician. He owns a busy little repair shop and is a mobile mechanic in the town of Hawthorne Nj.
